

President Draws Line Against Red Aggression

By WARREN ROGERS JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has drawn the line against Communist aggression in the western Pacific in a momentous speech telling Red China to stop pushing and negotiate or be prepared to fight.

Immediate bipartisan congressional reaction to his White House address Thursday night was strongly favorable.

It remained to be seen whether Red China and the Soviet Union—accused by Eisenhower of "working hand in hand" to enslave the western Pacific—would take him at his word.

Neither has indicated any heed to previous warnings by Secretary of State Dulles and other top U.S. officials. Peiping Thursday unleashed the heaviest artillery barrage yet on the blockaded offshore island of Quemoy. Soviet Premier Khrushchev told a rally of 100,000 cheering Russians at Stalingrad last night that any attack on Red China would be considered an attack on the Soviet Union.

Eisenhower interrupted his vacation to make the blunt speech, perhaps the strongest of his career.

In his nationwide radio-TV address, beamed around the world in 40 languages by the Voice of America, he deplored the bombardment of Quemoy. He called it a tragic affair which already has killed or wounded 1,000 persons—mostly civilians.

But the issue, he said, was not the defense of the tiny islands. He pledged: "No American boy will ever be asked by me to fight just for Quemoy."

The issue, he said, was: "Shall we take the position that, submitting to threat, it is better to surrender pieces of free territory than in fact brought on—World the appetite of the aggressor and we shall have peace?"

Contending the answer is no, the President said the free world must fight if necessary for that principle.

The democracies tried appeasement at Munich and failed to prevent in fact brought on—World

Integrate Now, High Court Answer to Plea for Little Rock Delay

Faubus Declines to Comment But Action Expected

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus withheld comment today on the Supreme Court decision ordering Negro students to be admitted to Central High School, but the general belief at the State Capitol is that he will take immediate action to close the school.

"I have no comment, and probably won't have any today," Faubus told reporters.

A special session of the legislature has empowered him to close a school where there is violence, or the threat of violence, arising from Federal court orders to integrate.

He has not yet signed the bill. The speculation at the capitol, however, was that he would do so immediately.

Other officials prepared to move swiftly to meet the situation arising from the Supreme Court decision.

The school board, the city board of directors, and officials in the U.S. District Attorney's office, all prepared for emergency meetings.

Dr. Dale Alford, a member of the school board and an outspoken segregationist, said: "The Kremlin could not have been more successful in creating mass agitation than this unrelenting decision. It is a radical approach to an age-old social problem and completely ignores the will of our people."

Mr. L. C. Bates, Arkansas director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) commented: "The Supreme Court decision will strengthen democracy at home and abroad."

"It is our hope that this decision will make it crystal clear to the Little Rock school board that it can no longer deny children the right to a decent education because of race or color. We hope that with the backing of the Supreme Court, the school board will provide the necessary leadership needed to implement its own plan."

"I am sure there are some children who would like to attend the school. Now we are right back where we were."

Seven Negro children who attended Central High School last year, under armed escort, are now eligible to return.

They have said previously that they would like to go to school—even in the face of potential violence.

None of those reached by reporters today would comment on the court decision.

Melba Paillo, one of those who attended Central High last year under guard of paratroopers said she wanted to talk with advisors first. Florida Ray, Thomas Jefferson and Terrance Roberts were not at their homes.

Wayne Upton, president of the school board, said: "I am sure we will have to try to integrate under it (the decision). We, of course, do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

Department Store Sales Dip Some

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District last week slipped 2 per cent below the corresponding week a year ago.

The decline was the first reported in seven straight weeks. St. Louis sales were off 7 per cent, seven smaller district cities averaged a 2 per cent loss and Louisville sales remained the same.

Memphis sales rose 9 per cent and Little Rock sales climbed 8 per cent, the bank said.

For the month ended last week district sales were 3 per cent ahead of the similar month last year.

School Board Goes Into a Special Meet

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus merely nodded but said nothing when the news reached him today of the Supreme Court decision ordering integration in Little Rock Central High School.

There was little immediate reaction either from Negro children who are affected by the decision, or by federal and city officials.

Mayor Werner Knapp, head of the Little Rock Board of Directors, immediately summoned a meeting of the board to set up plans for preserving peace in the city.

U. S. Atty. Osro Cobb and Justice Department aides sent from Washington said they were studying the decision, spokesman said it will be some time before they announce their next move.

The first official reaction came from Wayne Upton, president of the Board of Education.

"Naturally, we will have to try to operate under it (the decision)," he said. "We, of course do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do, but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

Another board member, Harold Engstrom Jr., said the board will probably hold an emergency meeting.

Faubus was presiding over a meeting of the State Election Commission when the news reached him.

A reporter from the Arkansas Democrat handed him a copy of the Associated Press bulletin carrying the decision.

Faubus read it in silence. He nodded but made no comment. Then he went on with the business before the commission.

None of the Negro children would comment on the decision.

Second Plant Proposed
A second industrial plant, unrelated to the feed mill, desires to locate in the Southwestern Proving Ground area and requests a brick building for its operations.

The Industrial Foundation Directors at a meeting last night, studied architects' drawings and then turned the matter over to the development and finance committees.

These committees were to meet and report its findings and recommendations to the foundation directors at a meeting called for next Tuesday night.

The industrial foundation was requested to finance the brick building, and then sell it to the plant owners on a 10-year lease-purchase agreement.

More Money Needed
Directors last night heard Ralph Lehman Jr., report on efforts to revive the foundation's stock-selling campaign in an effort to reach the $250,000 original goal.

Mr. Lehman said progress had been slow, but announced that around $100,000 had been pledged recently by filling station operators. A number of firms in this category are yet unreported, but are being contacted.

Total stock sales at present are $103,000.

Famous Poet of Yukon Dies at 84

LANCIEUX, France (AP)—Robert W. Service, poet of the Yukon who wrote "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," died Thursday night. He was 84.

The soundhouse poet apparently died of a heart attack. His wife was with him in their home on Robert Service Street, in this little Brittany coastal town.

Service estimated that the 130 lines of his most famous works brought him $500,000.

He was working in a bank in the Yukon and wrote the verse to be recited at a church social. It never was, however, because it had a few bells and damns.

Service said he sat up all one night scratching the verse on the backs of old envelopes. One of the bank guards, seeing the light on in the bank, fired at Service, thinking he was a robber, "and came pretty damned close."

He tossed the verse aside for some time and then, getting a $100 bonus from the bank, made arrangements with a publishing house in Toronto to bring out a book of verse at his own expense.

"Then I got a letter from the publishers saying the printers had been selling 'Dan' from galley proofs and it was so popular they wanted to bring out the book at their expense. It sold like wild fire."

This was in 1907 and since, Service said, he had reached the point where "I hate that verse."

Service wrote more than 1,000 verses ("Don't call them poems") six novels and a two-volume autobiography.

Service had lived in Monaco and France for a number of years.

Several weeks ago he became ill with what appeared to be the flu.

About 1912 Service left the Yukon and went to report Eskimo wars for Montreal and Toronto newspapers. In 1915 he married a Frenchwoman and served with the Red Cross attached to the French army in World War I.

Leonard Cooper, 41 of Koo Lou, Ark., died instantly in the crash, which occurred about one mile east of here on state highway 20.

Mrs. Mary Bratcher, 37, was reported in critical condition at a Little Rock hospital.

Both were alone in their cars.

Auto Hits Bridge, Farmer Is Killed

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A 20-year-old Reynold farmer was killed instantly today when his automobile struck a bridge railing on State Highway 88 four miles south of Altshuler.

State Trooper Tom Newby identified the dead man as Billy Allen Henderson.

Newby said a piece of corrugated metal from the bridge railing sliced through the automobile, mauling Henderson's body and killing him instantly.

Survivors include his widow.

The charter members were required to have a B grade average and to have a member of last year's pep squad. However, the membership is not limited to become a member, only a C grade average is required and a few other minor requirements.

Rockefeller Blames South for Trouble

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—Arkansas' multimillionaire industrial leader, Winthrop Rockefeller, last night blamed the South's failure to provide the separate but equal education for Negroes once ordered by the Supreme Court as one of the roadblocks to integration ordered by the high court in 1954.

Speaking before a meeting of the National Urban League Conference, Rockefeller said: "Ironically the claim of segregationists that integration in schools will mean a lowering of educational standards is true in many instances."

"It is true because, during the years of supposedly separate-but-equal facilities, Negro school standards have been tragically far below those prevailing in white schools. And this, when integrated classes are introduced, is often foreordained that Negro children become a drag in the academic level."

The fault lies directly with the communities and the community leaders, he said.

Rockefeller is chairman of the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission, a post to which he was appointed by Gov. Orval Faubus. He said he has been asked with his expressed opposition to how he can reconcile that role policies followed by the state of Arkansas in Little Rock school situation.

"I do not feel there is a conflict," he said. "As a citizen of Arkansas, I am dedicated to the welfare of the state... which is larger than any individual."

He declared: "I shall continue on the commission."

Order Calls for Showdown in 2 Southern States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The U. S. Supreme Court called today for a showdown on the thorny school integration issue, which is drawing to a crisis in at least two states—Arkansas and Virginia.

It denied any further delay in integrating Central High of Little Rock, Ark., in a ruling that will affect the way of life of millions of Southerners, white and Negro.

The shadow of its decree already had fallen in Virginia where a school has been ordered to close rather than obey a circuit court of appeals order to integrate.

In Arkansas, Gov. Orval Faubus is armed with legislative authority likewise to close Central High or any other school forced to mix the races. There was no immediate indication of his decision, but a school board member said that if he orders Central to close its doors they will be closed.

The Supreme Court's latest ruling cut off the likelihood of further appeal from lower court integration decrees.

It was received stoically by embattled Southern segregationists. Faubus, slightly, merely nodded when told of it.

However, it was generally believed at the State Capitol that Faubus would take immediate action to close Central High.

The U. S. Supreme Court's action today overruled a district U. S. judge in Little Rock who had ordered a 30-month delay at Central.

In the pattern of the Supreme Court decree, the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans ruled against delay in admitting Negroes to the Louisiana State University. It refused a stay asked by the university.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court in a unanimous decision of profound importance decreed an immediate go-ahead on racial integration at the Little Rock Central High School.

Action swiftly after coming at 12:11 p.m. Chief Justice Warren announced that the court had struck down a 2½-year delay order issued by a U.S. District Court judge.

The decision signaled a probable great new clash of federal vs. state power. Central High is due to open Monday. But Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas has vowed to oppose forced integration; he has said he would close the school first.

Justice Warren, in a brief announcement for the entire court, said prompt action by the high tribunal was deemed important because of the imminent opening of the high school.

A detailed written decision will be issued by the court later. The South, and the world at large, must wait for this before getting any new definition of what the court meant when it said in 1955 that the process of ending segregation in the race in public schools must proceed with "all deliberate speed."

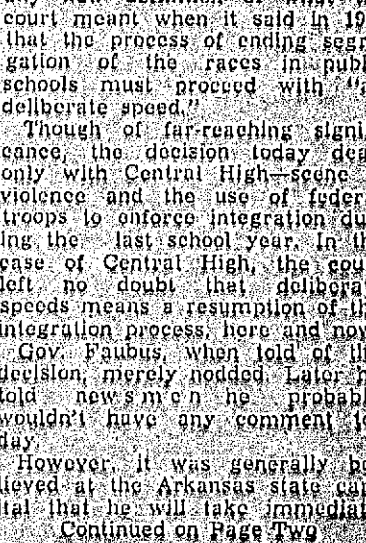

Though of far-reaching significance, the decision today dealt only with Central High—scene of violence and the use of federal troops to enforce integration during the last school year. In the case of Central High, the court left no doubt that deliberate speeds means a resumption of the integration process, here and now.

Gov. Faubus, when told of the decision, merely nodded. Later he told newsmen he probably wouldn't have any comment today.

However, it was generally believed at the Arkansas state capitol that he will take immediate

Marshals Sent to Little Rock by Rogers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers said today he has sent a team of 100 marshals to Little Rock, Ark. The move was a follow-up to Rogers' proposals that local and federal authorities act jointly in any trouble which may arise from a resumption of racial integration at Central High School.

The announcement coincided with a special session of the Supreme Court to hear argument on the question whether Central's desegregation program should be postponed for 1½ years. The school is scheduled to open next Monday.

Rogers said his assistants arrived in Little Rock by plane Wednesday night "in order to make their services available in connection with the pending school integration litigation."

The Justice Department team, headed by Little Rock Federal District Attorney Otto Cobb in connection with Rogers' suggestion that federal and local authorities work together to prevent any violence, which might develop.

Rogers two days ago made public letters which he sent last Sunday to Little Rock City Manager Dean Dauley and President Wayne Upton of the Little Rock school board. Rogers urged Upton to consider seeking a federal court injunction in the event anyone attempts to obstruct an integration order. He said the Justice Department was prepared to assist in any way which might be helpful in seeking such an injunction.

The Justice Department said today no response had been received from Dauley or Upton as of this morning.

The Justice Department group now on the scene consists of Asst. Atty. Gen. Malcolm R. Wilkey, head of the department's Office of Legal Counsel which renders legal opinions to the attorney general; Donald B. MacGuire, chief of the General Litigation Section of the department's Civil Case Division, and attorneys Allen J. Kirov and John O'Shea.

MacGuire headed a department group which went to Little Rock last year to work with Cobb which Atty. Gen. Brownell obtained an injunction against Gov. Orval Faubus to prevent the use of the Arkansas National Guard to bar attendance of Negro students at Central High.

The guard was later federalized by President Eisenhower and used along with regular troops to guard Central during the last school year.

Council Says State Needs Highway Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas needs an additional 10 million dollars annually in highway revenues to meet constitution requirements for the next 15 years, a traffic engineering firm said today.

The firm, Wilbur Smith and Associates of New Haven, Conn., told the Arkansas Legislative Council that the problem of raising the additional money could be solved through a general increase in motor fuel taxes and an adjustment in vehicle licensing costs.

The Smith study was authorized by the 1955 Legislature.

The firm suggested that about half of the additional money for highways could be raised through a one cent increase in fuel taxes.

Other recommendations, and the estimated revenue yields, were:

1. Restrict issuance of natural gross weights of less than 17,000 pounds. $940,000.

2. Elimination of reduced border late rates on fuels. $500,000.

3. Strict enforcement of $300,000 regarding overloading trucks. $300,000.

4. Elimination of special registration privileges such as national guard plates. $80,000.

5. Increase license fees for light weight commercial vehicles. $870,000.

6. Increase tax on diesel fuel one cent above the rate on gasoline.

The survey was considered by the Roads and Highways and Revenue Taxation committees today. It will be considered by the full Legislative Council tomorrow.

Suspected American Reds Are Deported

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Four Americans suspected of Communist activity in Mexico's recent wave of strikes and riots have been deported to the United States.

The Mexico Interior Department also announced Wednesday night that many other foreigners also were being investigated in connection with the disturbances. A Russian, a Cuban and a Frenchman were held here to avoid testifying before a U. S. congressional committee.

The department identified the four detainees as Bernard Blasen, a former New Yorker and member of a communist group, and three others.

Blasen and former head of the National Student Union, a former member of the National Student Union, were held last Monday last week and released after receiving a passport from the Mexican government and John Milton Bright, 20, for their identities.

Demos Raise Estimate of Senate Gains

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats raised their estimates of Senate gains today on the strength of surprising party turnouts at the polls in half a dozen states.

On top of their impressive sweep in Maine's general election Monday, Democrats rolled up greater vote totals than the Republicans in Tuesday primaries in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and Utah. This followed an earlier primary trend in such states as California and Ohio.

On the basis of these showings, chairman George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee said he is forecasting a minimum gain to 10 party seats in the Senate. Democrats now outnumber Republicans there 9-7.

Of the 20 Republican seats at stake in November, 12 were won by GOP candidates by less than 5 per cent vote margins in the 1952 Eisenhower landslide. One in Maine, which the GOP won handily then, already has been lost to the Democrats.

Democratic strategists say that if the trend of their increased primary strength carries through to November, they have a good chance of knocking off Republicans in the 1952 marginal states of Arizona, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Maryland, Michigan, Nevada, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Democrats class two Republican seats in West Virginia in this group also. One of them is held by GOP Sen. Chapman Revere, elected in 1950 to fill out the unexpired term of the late Democratic Sen. Harley M. Kilgore. GOP Sen. John D. Hobbitt Jr. was appointed to the other after the death of Democrat Matthew M. Neely.

To this list Democrats have added California and Minnesota, where they outpolled the GOP in the primaries. They are hopeful about New York and New Jersey.

On the other hand, Republicans have slim pickings from among the 13 Democratic seats that go on the block, although they are optimistic about adding a couple Wyndell Deaton of Sparkman was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Wallace Purdie and family, before leaving for Arkadelphia where he is a student at Ouchita Baptist College.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Stark, Kay and Jonathan have returned to Little Rock after a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl King Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stark.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gordon have been Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Coleman.

Agree on Site of Big Three Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Britain today agreed on Geneva as the site of a Big Three conference on suspending the nuclear weapons tests.

The United States expressed "gratification" that Russia had agreed to start the talks Oct. 31. The State Department made public a note sent Wednesday to the Soviet Foreign Office accepting the Soviet proposal that the talks be held in Geneva.

The note was almost identical with one sent by Britain Wednesday.

The U.S. note rejected the other Soviet proposal that the discussions be limited to two or three weeks.

It also withheld comment on other Soviet proposals, including a call for permanent suspension of tests instead of suspension of a year-by-year basis, as advocated by President Eisenhower.

Argentine Officials Warned to Clean Up

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The leader of the provisional government which turned over its powers to President Frondizi May 1 has warned his successor to clean the extremists out of his government or face disaster.

In probably his sternest speech since taking over after dictator Juan Peron was ousted in 1955, former Provisional President Pedro Aramburu Wednesday night urged Frondizi to make drastic changes in the government's program and replace officials.

Frondizi's government has come under increasing attacks from critics who denounce its Leftist and Peronist influences.

In Alaska when it becomes the 49th state.

In 1952 Democrats won with less than 55 per cent of the total vote in Massachusetts, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico and Rhode Island.

In two of these states, Republican candidates would have to dispose of two potential contenders for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, Senators John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts and Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Their GOP opponents are now rated as likely to be unsuccessful, as are the Republicans who oppose Senators Mike Mansfield in Montana, Dennis Chavez in New Mexico and John O. Pastore in Rhode Island.

News Briefs

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press tempered attacks on the United States in the Far East crisis today by focusing on the possibility of peaceful negotiations.

Charges of U. S. armed intervention in the Far East are still strong in the Russian papers but they are not so violent as before Premier Khrushchev's letter to President Eisenhower earlier in the week. Khrushchev urged that the United States "show sense" in the dispute by abandoning what he called a policy of threats.

The press focusing on negotiations was an apparent pitch for the United States to recognize Communist China.

TOKYO (AP) — Gen. Curtis LeMay, vice chief of staff of the U. S. Air Force, arrived in Tokyo today to confer with American and Japanese officials.

LeMay, who is on a fast tour of U. S. positions in the Pacific, has visited Formosa and the Philippines. He will leave for Alaska Friday.

ROME (AP) — Capt. Charles F. Baner Jr., whose New York-to-Rome nonstop flight ended Monday in a Corsican vineyard, flew into Rome today in his single-engine plane.

Baner, an airline pilot from Palo Alto, Calif., said he still planned to complete his solo flight around the world.

Fuel line trouble forced him to make an emergency landing in the vineyard.

SINGAPORE (AP) — U. S. Army Secretary Wilbur Brucker said today the United States is determined to show Communist China it cannot settle its claims against Nationalist China by force.

Brucker declined to speculate on what American forces might do in the Formosa Strait.

Brucker conferred with British military leaders on a tour of Southeast Asia.

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Pius XII has urged publicity for modern medical knowledge about heredity factors producing defective children so couples can "put themselves on guard against terrible accidents." He suggests the creation of "services of information" to give advice to prospective parents.

The Pope emphasized in a speech to delegates of the International Congress of Blood Transfusion that such efforts to avoid defective children do not violate Roman Catholic Church prohibitions against birth control.

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Airplanes were brought into service today in an effort to capture a convict who escaped Saturday from Cummins State Prison Farm near Gould.

Lee Henslee, prison superintendent, said several planes were cruising over a wooded area between Star City and Grady where Albert Wilkins Anderson, 35, was believed to be.

Anderson, who was sentenced to a year term for robbing a bank at Joiner, has sighted several times yesterday by posse.

Shots were fired, Henslee said, but Anderson escaped unharmed. Anderson escaped from a prison work detail. His brother, Charles Edward, who was sentenced in the same robbery, was not involved in the escape.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — A station wagon skidded from a rain-slicked highway and crashed into a tree near here last night, killing one man and injuring two others.

W. D. Brown, about 45, of Atlanta, Ga., was hurled from the vehicle and killed.

The driver, Jim Brinkman, 45, of Franklin, N.C., was critically injured. Also hospitalized here was Brinkman's son, Billy, 13, whose condition was considered satisfactory.

The accident happened on U. S. Highway 70 about six miles north-east of Hot Springs.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — More than 100 delegates of St. John's Seminary attended the annual Alumni Association banquet here last night. The graduates came from throughout the nation for the banquet.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — School board members, required by a 1957 law to own real property in the district they serve, do not have to meet the requirement if elected before the law became effective.

This was the ruling of Asst. Atty. Gen. John T. Haskins yesterday in an opinion requested by M. Edward Spear, supervisor of the Lonoke County Department of Education.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — McAdie Alcorn, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will address Arkansas GOP members at their state convention here tomorrow.

Alcorn will arrive in Little Rock at 10 a.m. by plane and is scheduled to address the convention at 11 a.m. He will lunch with the state executive committee and hold a press conference later.

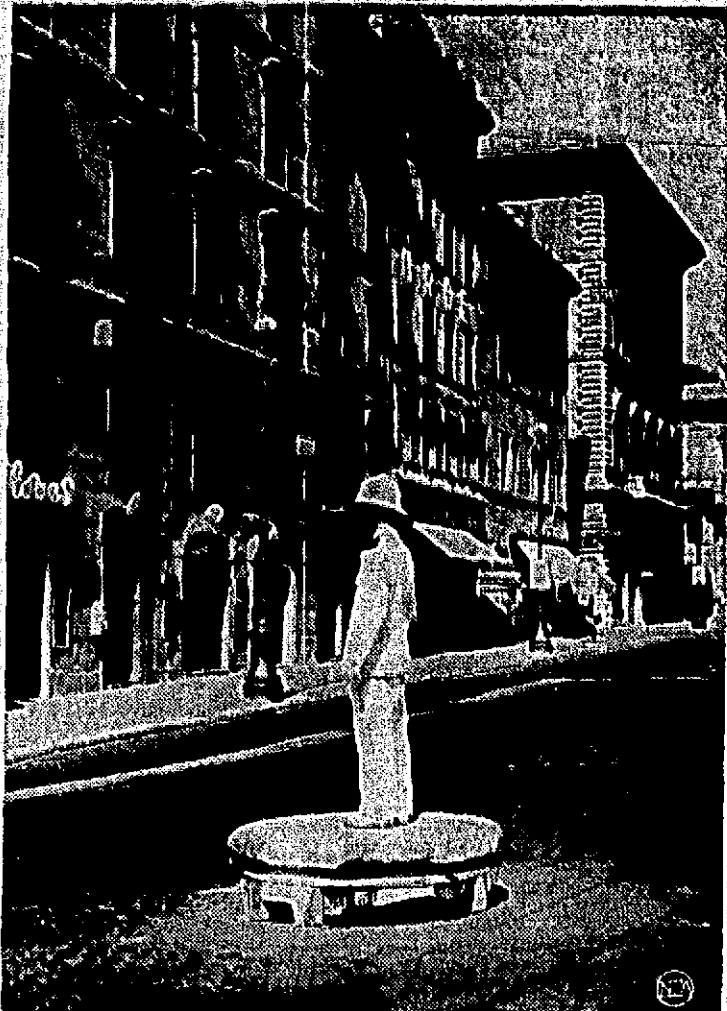

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Thirty-one-year-old Curtis Gayle of Magnolia Cove was bound over to the Garland Grand Jury yesterday in connection with the beating of a teen-age girl. Dep. Prosecutor Lloyd E. Darnell reported that the beating victim, Faye Thacker, 17, of Magnolia Cove, still is in critical condition at a Hot Springs hospital.

DOROTHY DIX

Long and Short of It
Forments Family Fight

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I adore long hair and I have been letting mine grow for quite some time. My husband despises it and wants me to have it cut. It is getting to the point where he will not be seen with me in public. What shall I do? — Depressed.

Dear Depressed: We should have a feminine constitution that would entitle all women to life, liberty, the pursuit of man and the privilege of having their hair as they want it. Men are very critical of women's tresses—color, length, length and degree of curl. Perhaps your husband just objects to the straggly in-between stage that your hair apparently is going through. Camouflage it with a fake chignon. Coax him to be patient until it reaches full growth. He'll probably love it.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

I am employed as companion-housekeeper to an elderly lady. Her beautiful gardens are cared for by a much older bachelor who has taken a shine to me. I don't care for him at all but he says if I won't go out with him, he won't work here any more. My employer really needs his services. What can I do? — Brenda F.

Dear Brenda: I'm sure your boss doesn't pay enough to cover dates you don't want. Car rides with gardeners are beyond the call of duty. Don't be intimidated by him, and stand pat on your refusal, even if the roses suffer.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

My 14-year-old daughter presents quite a problem. Sometimes she's very cooperative, other times she's awfully obstinate. She plays piano rather well, but will not perform in school or in front of other people. She does quite a number of household chores cheerfully but will actually cry if we don't turn on a TV program she wants. We're terribly worried about her as we never had trouble with our other children — Mrs. G. M.

Dear Mrs. G. M.: All youngsters do not follow the same pattern. Your daughter is having adolescent difficulties that the other children have, but she'll recover. She sounds like a very normal young person to me. As far as the TV program, she's often set overwhining, but she's a normal person. If she's a normal person, one of her pet things will get upset. Give in to her occasionally, or urge her before the law became effective.

This was the ruling of Asst. Atty. Gen. John T. Haskins yesterday in an opinion requested by M. Edward Spear, supervisor of the Lonoke County Department of Education.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — McAdie Alcorn, chairman of the Republican National Committee, will address Arkansas GOP members at their state convention here tomorrow.

Sawyer Does Well With the Phillies

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

No one over has accused Eddie Sawyer of being buddy-buddy with his guys, but he's a great man for psychology as a retired manager with the Philadelphia Phillies.

Just a few days ago he took a swipe at Chico Fernandez, the chipper, proud shortstop peddled to the Phillies by the Dodgers last year. "He hasn't shown me a thing," said Sawyer, the pennant skipper of 1950, who returned as Phillies' manager July 22.

If Chico hasn't shown Sawyer anything since then, Sawyer just hasn't been looking.

Sunday, the day after Sawyer's dig, the Phillies lost a doubleheader to Cincinnati, but Chico was 3-for-8 and drove in a run. Tuesday he doubled home the Phillies' first run when they beat Los Angeles 4-3 and ended their losing string at seven. Wednesday, Fernandez was hitless, but the Phillies beat Los Angeles 2-0.

Thursday night, Chico really beat the rap. He tied the game with a two-run single, then stole second and counted the winning run on Dave Phillips' pinch single for a three-run eighth-inning that beat the Dodgers 4-3.

It was the only game scheduled in the National League.

In the American League, first place New York was idle. The Chicago White Sox whipped Boston 10-0.

Is all you need to see this phase through. If you'd like to do some reading on the subject, I have a book list on "Dealing With Adolescents" which is yours for a four-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

What does a girl have to do to get rid of the name of a cheap trick, or even worse? Two years ago I got in with a crowd of boys who were, I thought very nice. I went with Billie first, then left him to go with Harold, who turned out to be a poor fish. So I broke off with him and dated Russell until he let his stinginess show too much. I went with Al and Bob, too, but they weren't so hot. Finally I discovered that the nice girls in town wouldn't have anything to do with me. I'm only 17 and don't want to be stuck with the bunch I'm going with now. The worst thing I ever did was to stay out late and go with the wrong crowd. — Pam.

Dear Pam: You worked hard enough at getting a bad rep so you certainly should have no doubt as to the hows and whys. The only way to lose it is to stay far away from the people who were responsible for hanging it on you. Even if it means nights and weekends without dates, don't go with the wrong mob. Don't try running away or people really will get ideas. Stay put, and fight. If you can find volunteer work to do, get in there and pitch. Memories are short and the town will soon stop gossiping when there's no food for the little mob.

Dear Dorothy Dix:

When my wife and I go to visit my brother and his wife, he seems to direct all his attention at my wife. I've asked him to spread his charm around but he says I'm being ridiculously jealous. His wife is very unattractive, while mine is a doll. — Mac.

Dear Mac: Maybe he's right. Be proud of the fact that your wife draws so much attention. All or all there why you married her.

action to close the school. A recent special legislative session empowered him to do so if he saw fit.

Attorneys for the Little Rock School Board expressed disappointment.

Wayne Updegraff, president of the Little Rock Board of Education said, "Naturally, we will have to try to operate under it (the decision)," he said. "We, of course do not know what Gov. Faubus plans to do but if he orders us to close the school we will close the school."

Thurgood Marshall, who as attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People had hung up another in a string of court victories on integration in Arkansas will be plainly "in open defiance of the law."

The first to comment on the decision was Sen. Storm Thurmond (D-SC). His remarks were given to newsmen in advance of the decision on a "hold for release" basis. He denounced the ruling, saying it was "in keeping with the court's record of putting the interests of Communists and other criminals ahead of the country's duty to sustain the Constitution."

Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wy.), a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said "the matter was 'so serious' he preferred to withhold comment."

Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.), a former chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said: "The court has spoken. I trust that it will mean this matter now will be adjusted in peaceable accord with the decision of the court."

The ruling, when it comes, will affect the way of life of millions of white and Negro people.

The legal question is: Shall the high court tell Little Rock, Ark., to resume integration classes at Central High School at once or permit a 30-month delay which a federal district judge sanctioned?

In Virginia, the Warren County school board has ordered the Front Royal High School to close temporarily at the end of today's classes in the face of a ruling to integrate.

The decision was taken after Chief Justice Simon E. Sobeloff of the U.S. 4th Circuit Court of Appeals at Baltimore refused to grant a stay of a desegregation order while it was being appealed.

The ruling Thursday ordered 22 Negroes admitted to the white high school, the only high school in the county.

Under Virginia law, the assignment or enrollment of any Negro pupil to a white school automatically forces that school to close.

Later the Charlottesville school board postponed the opening of two schools until Sept. 22. Both schools are under orders to admit Negroes.

At Ozark, Ark., three Negro girls revealed they were ousted Tuesday from the integrated high school after 10 hostile white boys and girls cornered them in the office of Supt. R. L. Graves.

Graves was shoved around and later told the Negroes to go home and stay there.

In Madisonville, Ky., three Negro pupils attended classes quietly with white children at Pride Elementary School the day after 10 women made an unsuccessful attempt to block their entrance.

At New Orleans, judges of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals considered the request of Louisiana State University for a stay of a District Court order permitting Negroes to enroll at LSU's New Orleans branch. Meanwhile, 42 more Negroes enrolled. This brought the total number of Negroes registered to 53.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today denied the Little Rock School Board any delay in integration at Central High school.

Chief Justice Warren announced before a packed court room that a requested 2 1/2-year delay was refused.

Warren said the decision was unanimous.

The high tribunal's ruling affirmed a decision by the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis. It means seven Negroes who wish to attend Central High School now are eligible for immediate readmission.

The school is scheduled to open Monday.

But Gov. Orval Faubus has said repeatedly he will close the school rather than see it operate with forced integration.

The chief justice read a two-page printed opinion which was signed "per curiam" — meaning by the court.

The opinion stated that the court was "having fully deliberated upon the oral arguments had on Aug. 28 as supplemented by the arguments on Sept. 11, and all the briefs on file, is unanimously of the opinion that the judgment of the Court of Appeals for the 8th Circuit (St. Louis) of Aug. 18 must be affirmed."

Warren added for the court that in view of the imminent start of the new school year at Central High, "we deem it important to make prompt announcement of our judgment affirming the Court of Appeals."

Warren said an opinion giving views of the justices and supporting today's decision, "will be prepared and announced in the due course."

This will give the court time to set forth in detail its view on the specific issue of whether disorder and violence are sufficient legal grounds for suspending

War II, he said, and "I never want to see that history repeated."

He said the Reds are probing, testing, and their bluff must be called or "tragedy after tragedy would befall us."

Eisenhower couched this warning to the Communists and appeal to the free world with an urgent bid for negotiation—between the United States and Red China or, if that fails, in the United Nations.

"There is no going to be any appeasement," he said. "I believe that there is not going to be any war."

plan of integration once it has been put in operation.

It also will afford the court the opportunity, if it sees fit, to elaborate on its 1955 command for desegregation in public schools "with all deliberate speed."

The document thus could lay down guidelines for federal judges in dealing with integration cases.

The chief justice stated that the judgment of the Supreme Court "shall be effective immediately, and shall be communicated forthwith to the District Court for the Eastern District of Arkansas."

This refers to U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley who ruled June 21 that integration should be suspended until January 1, 1960. Lemley acted on a petition from the Little Rock School Board.

The Arkansas Legislature has armed Gov. Orval Faubus with powers to close the schools rather than permit integration. Faubus declined Thursday to say whether he would use those powers. But, he said, "The Legislature did not pass that legislation if it were not intended to be used."

In Little Rock, the mood of the people was reported even larger against integration than it was a year ago when mob violence resulted in the use of federal troops to enforce court-ordered integration.

The 3 1/2 hours of arguments before the Supreme Court Thursday were mainly repetitive of those deputy U. S. marshals and a special four-man legal team on hand in the tense city for possible use in helping carry out any integration order from the Supreme Court.

made two weeks earlier when the tribunal interrupted its summer recess to consider an intermediate phase of the Little Rock case.

At that time, the high court decided to delay a decision until it could consider the basis question in the case — whether to uphold or overturn a decision by Federal District Judge Harry J. Lemley of Hope, Ark., permitting a 30-month suspension of integration at Central High.

Arkansan Wanted on Holdup Charge

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A state

warrant naming James T. Fagan, 28, of Conway, Ark., was issued here yesterday in connection with the attempted holdup of a Wichita tobacco store, police said.

The tobacco store owner, Jose Magdalene, 38, identified Fagan last night as the man who exchanged shots with him and slugged him, Detective Sgt. Doyle Terry said.

Hope-Pine Bluff Kickoff at 8

Foes of Old Start Football Season Here

Tonight at 8 o'clock the Hope Bobcats officially open the season against a powerful Pine Bluff eleven of the Big 8 hoop at Hammons Stadium.

From all reports the contest is rated a tossup. Actually it will be a battle of the unknowns. Little is known of the visitors except they always have one of the power houses of the strongest division in Arkansas. They reportedly are tight this year but little stock is taken in weights given out for programs.

The Bobcats have potential and a victory tonight could go a long way in giving fans an idea of what to expect this season. Lack of experience in the line is sure to prove a factor but Coaches Pierce and Sevier have a lot of faith in the boys.

Hope will average over 160 pounds and the starting eleven is admittedly much faster than last season's although somewhat smaller. A veteran backfield should give the team the experience needed for offensive punch. Every man saw plenty of action last season. The line has yet to prove itself, but the possibility is there.

The high school band under the direction of John Barbarotto will perform at halftime. The kickoff is promptly at 8 o'clock.

One of the largest opening crowds in years is expected.

Ted Williams Going After Batting Title

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Well, well, look who's tied for the American League batting lead. A guy named Williams from Boston.

It's been a long haul. All that fuss over his ankle in the spring, and missing opening day because of food poisoning. He didn't get over .300 until July 1. Then he had another split spit with a booing crowd.

He spent his 40th birthday fighting a virus. The sickness kept him out of action from Aug. 24 to last Tuesday, when he was fifth in the batting race at .315.

He has gone 3-for-11 since, tying teammate Pete Runnels for the lead at .320 Thursday with a 2-for-4 day as the Red Sox lost 4-1 at Chicago. Right behind is Bob Cerv of Kansas City at .313, with Cleveland's Vic Power fourth at .315.

Williams, shooting for his sixth title although a far cry from his winning .388 of last season, drove in the lone Boston run as the White Sox swept the three-game set and took a 3-1 game lead over the Red Sox for second place.

The New York Yankees, who could clinch the pennant Sunday were idle. They open a two game set at Chicago tonight with a 10-1/2 game lead and their main number at five.

Washington took a season series from Detroit for the first time since 1954 by beating the Tigers 7-6, and Kansas City belted Baltimore 7-1 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Philadelphia beat Los Angeles 4-3 in the only National League game.

Dick Donovan (13-13) threw a eighth inning. The White Sox But he needed Turk Lown's mop-up after he gave up his only two walks (one to Runnels, who was 1-for-3) and Williams' single in the eighth. Jim. The White Sox counted their four in the fifth. Two-out, two run singles by Jim

Doesn't Pay This Man to Work

LONDON (AP) — It doesn't pay Dennis Fox to work in this wage state of Britain.

The 32-year-old laborer has no job but still manages to take home the equivalent of $26.00 each week—in family allowances to this six children, unemployment pay and special national assistance.

"The money is more than he is likely to earn if he finds a job," a probation officer told a Huddersfield court Wednesday.

Fox was hauled in because he had failed to pay 70 cents a week to a former employer from whom he embezzled $50. Action was deferred after Fox agreed to make the weekly payments.

Feels U. S. Will Support Policy

NEWPORT R.I. (AP) — The summer White House said today initial public reaction in telegrams is running about two to one in support of the no-embargoment. For East policy President Eisenhower said fourth Thursday night.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said today he received the last week or so prior to Eisenhower's television-radio address, was only about 50 per cent in support of administration policy.

Hagerty said "the response to the address is running very heavy" in telegrams. He declined to give any number.

The father of the modern magazine was probably Richard Steele. Appointed to the post of government in 1707, he got the idea of writing and publishing a magazine which would give more news and the gossip of London. In April 1709 he started the Tatler, which came out three times a week. Steele was knighted by George I in 1713.

The BRAND RIDER

THE STORY: John Land finds that Irma McKenzie, owner of the Four-Arrow ranch, is an attractive young lady. Lane is her foreman and he learns she is engaged to Sheriff Tom Cole.

Chapter V

Irma took a chair near Lane's sofa when she re-entered the living room.

He said, "I have really understood what Colonel Richards was trying to tell me about your trouble with Sorensen."

"All Colonel Richards cares about is rounding up enough of my cattle to take care of what I owe him."

Looking up from her sewing, Mrs. Erwin said, "Irma, that is not being fair to Ross's best friend — not when he's been so patient about what you owe him."

Irma regarded her aunt moodily.

"Your father got killed by a horse?" Lane asked.

Irma nodded. "The way it happened, my crew had captured a stallion that Daddy wanted for his own spring, and one day when he was at the ranch alone, he tried to break it to saddle. He was falling to old for that sort of thing though. He let the stallion fall over backward with him. Our foreman found him and the horse both in the corral dead. When the stallion fell, he broke his neck, and the horn of the saddle crushed Daddy's chest."

Lane nodded, his bland features sympathetic and in deference to the girl's painful memories he was silent. Finally he said, "Was there any doubt about its being the way you said it was?"

Engrossed in her own thoughts, the girl wasn't aware that he'd spoken, so Lane moved his gaze to her aunt.

Mrs. Erwin shook her head. "No, there wasn't any doubt, Mr. Lane. They went over the corral inch by inch with Indian scouts, putting for sign. No one had been in that corral for a couple of days except Ross."

Lane nodded. Irma was looking at him and he asked, "Is the Four-Arrow the only ranch being squatted on by nesters?"

"Yes, sir. But every rancher in the valley is worried about them."

"But they won't help you fight them?"

"I haven't asked for help from anyone but Murdo Mitchell."

"And he's the sheriff's brother-in-law?"

Lane nodded.

"What about your father having given the gangsters a deed to the Tortuga Creek land?"

"Well, Sorensen, the leader of those squatters, said his dad had given him one."

"He can't produce witnesses to that, can he?"

"No."

Looking up from her sewing, Mrs. Erwin said, "Ross was always close-mouthed about his business affairs, Mr. Lane. Independent as a hog on ice. Not even the crew with for sure about his dealings with those farmers. The first that Irma and I knew about them was when Colonel Richards was trying to tell me about your trouble with Sorensen."

"It's odd that Ellis Draper never mentioned the trouble with the gangsters," Lane said. "You had considerable correspondence with him, of course?"

"Not too much," Irma said. "Didn't he tell you the ranch was falling to pieces?" John Lane asked.

"No. He told me he thought I ought to sell, and clear up Daddy's debts."

Lane was thoughtful. "In view of your attitude now," he said, "I can't understand why you didn't come home and take over the ranch at the time of your father's death."

Moodily Irma lifted her hands and toyed with the ring on her finger. "I thought of doing that, but I couldn't make up my mind about Tom."

Lane nodded. "Cole didn't write you about the nesters, either?"

"No."

"Does Cole want to sell?" Irma asked.

"Who? — Murdo Mitchell?"

"Murdo? Why not, Murdo Mitchell doesn't want the Four-Arrow."

Lane thought it over.

Irma said, "Sorensen's deed to the Tortuga Creek land was supposed to have been in the bank vault, but when Ellis Draper took charge of the bank, it wasn't there. Ellis can't recall any such deed, either, and says he doesn't believe Daddy would ever have sold a foot of the Four-Arrow to gangsters. That's what he and Sorensen had trouble about — who those nesters paid the ranch."

"Did they kill anyone?"

"Two of our vaqueros."

Lane started into the fireplace. "Sorensen's dad was a nest nester. The county clerk should remember."

"Ellis Draper should, you mean. Ellis was county clerk then. Ellis was county clerk until Murdo Mitchell gave him the job in the bank."

"So Mitchell owns the bank?"

"Well," Lane said, "if Sorensen had had the deed recorded, Draper would surely have known it. Sorensen says he gave the deed to a deputy clerk."

"Where's the deputy clerk?"

"The one who signed the deed. West Sorensen said he was where he is."

Dark or Tebbetts Mentioned for Cards

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Alvin Dark and Birdie Tebbetts seem to be the most likely candidates to replace Fred Hutchinson, under fire as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals.

Reports that Hutchinson, along with all the Cardinals coaches, would be fired continued to mount despite denials.

Cardinal executives, including President August A. Busch, have repeatedly said no decision about a manager will be made until the season is over. But only Wednesday in New York, Dick Meyer said, "Frankly, things don't look too good for Hutchinson right now."

Tebbetts, who recently quit as manager of the Cincinnati Reds, has talked with Cardinal officials. Meyer said he had talked to Tebbetts "but not about a managerial job." He did not elaborate.

Dark was traded by the Cardinals to the Cubs for pitcher Jim Hosan early in the season. It is reported that when with the Redbirds he impressed team officials as possible manager material.
